7:00 PM Kaleta & Super Yamba Band ... superyambaband.com

Kaleta got his start in the late 70s performing in church and was soon after picked up by iconic Juju master and world music pioneer King Sunny Ade. A few years later Fela Kuti came calling. Kaleta would go on to tour the world playing guitar for the King of Afrobeat in his storied band Egypt 80 through the 1980s and into the 1990s. Now based in New York City, Kaleta has been leading Super Yamba Band since 2017. The members of Super Yamba Band have honed their craft performing with a diverse range of artists including David Byrne, Rubblebucket, Yeasayer, and Between the Buried and Me, to name a few. Collaborating over several years with Senegalese griot and talking drum master Modou Mbenge, known best for his work with African pop star Abdou Guite Seck, was a defining moment in the development of Super Yamba's sound and the musician's understanding of the African music tradition.

7:00 PM Bruce Molsky ... brucemolsky.com

Bruce Molsky is one of the most revered "multi-hyphenated career" ambassadors for America's old-time mountain music. For decades he's been a globetrotting performer and educator, a recording artist with an expansive discography including seven solo albums, and well over a dozen collaborations including two Grammy nominations. He's also the classic "musician's musician" – a man who's received high praise from diverse fans and collaborators like Linda Ronstadt, Mark Knopfler, Celtic giants Donal Lunny and Andy Irvine, jazzer Bill Frisell, and the late dobro master Jerry Douglas.

8:30 PM Rani Arbo & daisy mayhem ... raniarbo.com

Harmony, rhythm, and indelible songs have been the hallmarks of Rani Arbo & daisy mayhem for two decades and counting. From the Newport Folk Festival to Solid Sound and beyond, this Americana quartet delivers wit, camaraderie, and pure musicality to renew the human spirit. Acoustic Guitar describes their sound as "tight, with stylish, unexpected choices," a mix of New Orleans grooves, old-time gospel harmonies, bluesy swing fiddle, fiery electric and acoustic guitar, and junk percussion. Their lockstep harmonies shake the rafters or hush the room, and their originals, wild card covers, and traditional tunes plumb the human condition with joie de vivre. "Rani Arbo & daisy mayhem dig deep into their collective souls, finding joy in the moment, peace in the harmonies, and rapture in the rhythmic drive." –The Hartford Courant

Magician Tom Verner ... magicianswithoutborders.com

Tom Verner is a national treasure living right here in Addison County. His Magicians Without Borders performs magic shows for children in refugee camps, orphanages, and hospitals around the world – often in war-torn places like Ukraine where love, laughter, and magic are desperately needed. Tom says, "I like to think that the magic brings not only laughter and surprise, but on some deeper level perhaps, magic plants seeds of hope. Hope that the impossible is possible. Hope that after years of waiting in refugee camps, the waiting will end, and the people will go home again." Since 2002, Magicians Without Borders, featuring Tom and his assistant La Fleur, has traveled to over 30 countries using magic to entertain, educate and empower.

Mimealot! – Chris Yerlig ... mimealot.com

Chris Yerlig was first with us in 2019. We are thrilled to have him return this year. Chris has had the privilege of performing all over the world since his European beginnings in France, Spain, and England. He now makes his home in New England, and travels all over the U.S. and the world. Other countries he has performed in are Bangladesh, Benin, and Cameroon (in Africa), Canada, China, Curaçao, the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, India, Japan, Morocco, and Switzerland. "One of the funniest…captures the hearts of our audiences…timing and rhythms are flawless…maintains the children's attention whether they are 3 or 13...you can't take your eyes off him." –K.L., Providence Children's Museum, RI

No Strings Marionette Company ... creativeground.org/profile/no-strings-marionette-company

No Strings Marionette Company has been an anticipated part of the Festival for years. Puppeteers Dan Baginski and Barbara Paulson's traveling stage transforms any space into an intimate theater where the seamless blend of movement, music, and masterful manipulation captivates young and old alike. With puppeteers in full view, the audience sees how the puppets are brought to life. These Vermont artisans lovingly hand craft the marionettes, props, and scenery, whether for an original tale or an adaptation of a classic. Shows begin with an interactive song featuring audience members, and finish with demonstrations sparked by the audiences' curious questions. Once the mind believes there are no strings...this realm becomes real...and the adventure begins! This year they will present Bully! For the Three Big Pigs.

Vermont Troubadour Jon Gailmor ... jongailmor.com

We love Jon Gailmor and welcome him back to our stage. Humor and audience involvement are integral parts of any Jon Gailmor performance. Original, relevant, irreverent, children's, American, international, and totally absurd tunes are part of his broad repertoire. A fan from Edmonds, WA, said it best: "Jon's way with an audience is nothing short of genius. He had us in stitches and in tears, with a seamless array of humor, nostalgia, and especially wisdom. One comes away from Jon's house concert with a renewed dedication to the things we value. We are all encouraged to be a little more of who we are when we're with Jon."

7:00 PM Vermont Folklife Center Traditional Arts Showcase ... vermontfolklifecenter.org

In 2022 the Vermont Folklife Center celebrates 30 years of innovation in tradition in their Vermont Traditional Arts Apprenticeship Program. In the words of program founder Greg Sharrow, "the making of art is an irrepressible force that is true of everyone!" VTAAP works to create opportunities for traditional arts in Vermont communities to grow and thrive, helping to shape identity and support both individual and community wellbeing. An apprenticeship is a face-to-face learning opportunity where a master artist passes on their skills to one or more apprentices through hands-on work. During the past 30 years, Vermont Folklife Center has supported over 350 apprenticeships representing everything from the arts of native Abenaki and of English, French, Polish and Irish immigrants, to those of Lao, Somali Bantu, Congolese, Bosnian, Tibetan, and Bhutanese Nepali refugee communities. Anniversary festivities are taking place throughout 2022. Tonight's showcase highlights three virtuosic artists who have been involved with VTAAP over the years and have made major efforts to pass on their artistic mastery to the next generation: Migmar Tsering, Pete Sutherland, and Shvan Nepali.

8:30 PM É.T.É. ... canismusic.com/artist/e-t-e

Awarded the OPUS prize for "Discovery of the Year 2017-2018," among many other accolades since their first album release in 2017, this trio has been winning over the hearts of listeners worldwide, young and old alike. É.T.É are Élisabeth on fiddle, step-dancing, and vocals; Thierry on bouzouki, podorythmie, and vocals; and Élisabeth on cello and vocals. The word été in French means summer – a fitting tribute to how their original, lively take on Québec traditional music is infused with a new vitality. With lovely vocal harmonies, deep groove, and rich instrumentation, É.T.É are an explosive trio on stage, transforming the nostalgia of a kitchen party into an unforgettable show experience that celebrates the joie de vivre of Québecois culture.

7:00 PM Radio Free Honduras ... radiofreehonduras.com

Radio Free Honduras is a diverse collective of Chicago musicians, all united under one goal – supporting the artistry of Charlie Baran and bringing this tremendous talent into the spotlight where it belongs. Founded by Dan Abu-Absi, longtime guitarist for JT and the Clouds and Birds of Chicago, Radio Free Honduras plays mostly Baran originals, but their live shows often include a wide variety of reimagined cover songs. This band provides Charlie with the wide musical pallet his talent (and songs) deserve. Abu-Absi has gathered a large, revolving collective of some of Chicago's most talented musicians; lively percussion, eclectic instrumentation, and rich harmonies all provide the backdrop, allowing Charlie to do what he does best – stunning guitar work, tapping into what seems a limitless supply of energy and enthusiasm for music.

"Traditional Honduran music with Rhumbas, Los Lobos inspired rock, and south of the border soul. Baran has made a record that feels right at home as a summer sound-track for Chicago's eclectic Latin neighborhoods." –Illinois Entertainer

8:30 PM Damn Tall Buildings ... damntallbuildings.com

Damn Tall Buildings, featuring Avery Ballotta on violin and vocals; Max Capistran on guitar, banjo, and vocals; and Sasha Dubyk on upright bass and vocals, draws on early 20th century Americana/Bluegrass music, repurposed for a modern audience. They've been hailed by The Boston Globe as "The Carter Family for the millennial generation." "If you like your bluegrass served with a little punch, attitude, grit and gravy … Damn Tall Buildings will slide in nice as a welcome addition to your listening rotation. Bluegrass at heart, but pulling from a wide range of influences including swing, ragtime, jazz, and even a hint of contemporary perspective in the songwriting, they offer virtually unmatched energy and enthusiasm, underpinned by intelligent songs that don't skimp on the infectiousness…" –Savingcountrymusic.com

7:00 PM Oshima Brothers ... oshimabrothers.com

Oshima Brothers' magnetic sibling sound and contagious joy result from a lifetime of making music together. Raised in a musical family in rural Maine, the brothers have honed a harmony-rich blend of contemporary folk and acoustic pop. Music has always been a central part of the brothers' lives. Their parents performed folk songs and encouraged their sons to make music too. On stage, Sean and Jamie create a surprisingly full sound with dynamic vocals, electric and acoustic guitars, octave bass, loops, and percussion. The brothers live in Maine but are often on the road performing, producing music videos, and dancing. "Sean and Jamie are two of the most inspirational people I've met. They perform a roots-based pop sound that is infectious and fun, and even though a little wistful, this song gets in your head and won't let go." –Chris Wienk, WEXT

8:30 PM CFI featuring George Walker Petit ... labella.com/artists/george-walker-petit/

For the show at the Festival, they will be joined by Connor Young, Avery Cooper, Nate Reit, Jake Whitesall, and Rob Debruyn. The evening's concert will be performed with a full nine-piece band including a four-piece horn section. They brought down the house at their recent 2022 Burlington Discover Jazz Festival appearance. 7:00 PM Vermont Jazz Ensemble Street Dance

Since 1984, our capstone event has been the Street Dance, featuring big-band selections by the Vermont Jazz Ensemble. With musicians hailing from all corners of the Green Mountain State, Vermont Jazz Ensemble is a 17-member instrumental group that performs selections in the jazz and Big Band styles, and also plays a repertoire of rock, fusion, Latin, and popular styles. Its extensive library includes standards by Count Basie, Stan Kenton, Duke Ellington, Woody Herman, Maynard Ferguson, Buddy Rich, Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, and others. This is a wonderful event for the whole family. Main Street will be closed from Merchants Row to the Middlebury Community Music Center for the dance.
